

Intern Job Description

The NE Texas- Dallas Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation is searching for undergraduate college students with a desire or need to gain valuable non-profit organization work experience.

As we are aware that interested students may come from different educational disciplines, i.e. Marketing/Communications, Political Science, Business, etc., we will tailor individual intern experiences to suit the candidates needs and goals.

Any internship may include assisting with Chapter mailings and other standard office functions, however, all internships will provide the student with real world non-profit experience. Successful candidates may be given opportunities to go along on volunteer committee meetings from time to time to provide support and to increase their knowledge of non-profit activities.
